To the overseers of the Poor of the town of Minot Gentlemen you doubtless ere this have received a notice Dated sept 7 1853 stating that Priscilla Collins an inhabitant of & pauper of the town of Minot & now probably known by you as the wife of Joseph Clifford whom we acknowledge as having his lawful settlement in in the town of Litchfield as far as the settlement of the case under consideration is concerned, but which will be denied & contested in any legal proceegs of the case at issue, for serious doubts are entertained relative to the legal settlement of said Clifford, & had the application for assistence been through him alone, an investigation would have been made before now. Said Priscilla Collins having been married (as we think) to J Clifford through the influence of artifice, treachery, & bribery of the Overseers of Minot in and for the year 1852 we reject her outright & forever regardless whether you do or do not approve of the procedure of the your former Overseers, is ~~as much a matter of stern fact~~ a matter of little consequence; but that we shall defend the rights of the town of Litchfield from the base assaults of such conduct, is as much a matter of stern fact, as the existence of the ~~case~~ case in question; and to prove that we have taken a firm & unflinching position in this matter no argument is requisite: and though our language ~~is plain~~ may be plain no sarcastic thrust is intended, We have furnished the above named Priscilla Collins (or Priscilla Clifford as you may term her) with assistence in the town of Litchfield to which we demand attention & payment for the same, but should you disregard our timely notice & rush blindly to the attact in defence, remember you have not erred through the counsel of the Overseers of Litchfield

Litchfield Dec 12th 1861. Messrs Overseers of the Poor of the Town of Mind. We received yours of Dec 21st stating that you had paid a bill to Mr Pulsifer accruing after our settlement. I requested you, (when I informed you that Clifford left me and I could not find him afterward on the day of settlement) not to furnish him on our account if he was able to travil to Litchfield for I considered him as able to travil on the road, as in the woods. I at that time tried by every method in my power to induce him to return expressing him that I would use him in the best manner if he would go with me, but all was in vain. I then told him that we should be under the necessity of using compulsory measures for go he must. I left him for a few minutes to go into the street to obtain help to put him into my wagon, & if necessary to bind him, (for he was then at work in Mr Pulsifer garden when I had the conversation with him) but as soon as he was out of my sight, he left his work and passed into the house. I found that he was not in the garden & I immediately passed the house so that I might stop him, (in case of his attempting to go away from me,) for I had procured two young men to help me. I enquired of Pulsifers family if they knew where he was, but they said he passed through the house, and that was all they knew relative to it, evidently taking no steps to know, or at least to let me know which way he went. Clifford went as he told me into the woods and that night made his lodgings at Pulsifers where he was during his protracted sickness. It being on Saturday and not knowing where I should be likely to find him, I returned home. I requested a friend with whom I was acquainted to write me as soon as he made his appearance and he accordingly wrote me, and I took my son with me and went to Mind. As Clifford was not acquainted with him he went to the corner and I staid behind. He found that most likely he was at Pulsifers where he had spent the most of his time. He took a back road went into the neighborhood and made inquiry and found that Clifford was there some of the time, and off if he was apprehensive that we were in pursuit of him. They sent a young man to see if he was there, but found that he was not in the house.

Document Number MISC-2

Pulsifer by some means found that I was in the neighborhood, and immediately came over. I had conversation with him, and came to the conclusion that very little was to be known by him. He said he pitied Clifford, because he hated to go to Litchfield, and did not know if he saw us coming he should say scat or tell him to run as I should say. I was up till I thought, and the next thought that he would not come that night, but he came to the house at a late hour, and immediately left for some reason. I stayed and in the morning went over to Pulsifer and searched in his barn, and out buildings, and was told he was not in the house, and after a while left, and was told that Clifford was seen soon after we left the place. I went over in a short time as soon as I thought he would be likely to be there, in the night and found him. He had his room fastened and I was told I could not get in. I went to the window and told him that if he would shew himself and come out of his room I would treat him well, but if not have him I would, and that I was prepared to take him. He thought it best to come out, and he has been treated well and has staid with us without any restraint, and I have no doubt if Pulsifer and others had taken a manly part he would have gone with me when I first came over. He was advised as he tells me and others will say the same not to go to Litchfield; and that we could not take him from his wife as he sometimes calls her, and if we attempted he would be taken from us, &c. Now I think after we came for the purpose of taking him to Litchfield where he has his legal settlement & he refused to go, and made out of our way, and you was desired to make no provision for him we being willing to do it as the law directs, that you had no legal right to aid in his support unless he was unable to travel to Litchfield, and in distress, especially when that aid was preventing us from obtaining him, and removing him to his place of legal settlement. So long as he could have his support, or could obtain his food, and at the same time keep out of our way, he intended to do it, & had you instead of the selectmen of Pulsifer that all bills were paid, and that we were ready to support him when he would deliver himself into our care, and you should pay no bills for his support; we should not have been under the necessity of going to Mind as we had to, and hunting him by day and by night, and when we found him of being debarred from taking him, unless he chose to deliver himself up, or else break into the house. I think when you think how much trouble he gave us and the cause of it, you will feel that we have paid all the bills you ought in justice to ask us to pay; if not give us your reasons, and we will take them into consideration, and pay the bill, or otherwise as in our judgment the Board shall decide.

Gent. Your letter of Feb 15th has been duly received and I have to say that in the first place there remains some doubt as to A Wilson having his legal residence in the Town of Litchfield. He has lived a roving life, and passing from place to place for a long length of time. When he fell into distress he was assisted at the poor farm a few weeks during last Winter 1861 not because he had resided in Town for the term of five years and in that way had gained a legal settlement, but because he thought he was here when the separation of the State took place, and therefore belonged here by the Act of March 21st 1821. whether he was here or not has not been ascertained. But as it will be difficult now at this period to obtain decisive proof, and cost more than the demand you have if properly adjusted, I will state what we will do in case you see fit to comply. Mr Smith's charge of 12,50 no doubt should be cut down, to a reasonable and lower sum. His sons charge must depend on the actual service rendered, and the worth of the quilt. Mr Dirlon's charge should be reduced to what was necessary, and to what you authorized him to perform, And you should not have employed him to go after Wilson's sister on our expence. If he had friends desiring to go after relatives, they should have done it on their expence not ours, and if you authorized him to go you should pay the bill. The coffin & the trouble of procuring it we can only say that if worth what you state you went into more expence than ordinary in such cases. The Physicians bill is almost the only bill which is unexceptional; he it seems was disposed to ride cheaper than the rest of your employers which is not often the case. As to the Minister charge I will only say, if he benefited only the living, and not the dead, you should settle the account among yourselves.

We will say to you that if you will settle the account for $2,50 we will send the money as it is the last bill that can be made by him: Or we will refer it to any disinterested person to take the circumstances, both relative to the doubt as to his residence, and the extravagance of the bill into consideration. If neither of these are acceded to you may write us and we will come to Canton and see you & or get him giving you the trouble to hunt up the evidence of his legal residence. You will write us soon as you find it practicable.

Litchfield August 15th 1862

Gentlemen

We have carefully examined the question as to the settlement of Campbell, & that previous to the annexation of a portion of Litchfield to West Gardner he had a legal settlement in Litchfield. He at the time of said annexation resided and had a home in the territory set off, and as he was not at that time a pauper, he was not one contemplated in the act of annexation, and consequently by the general statute belongs to West Gardner. We would further state if he had no legal settlement on the territory set off and continued to reside there so long that the time after the annexation added to the time previous would make five years, and he received no support as a pauper during that period; then he belongs to West Gardner, unless he is affected by the special act setting off the territory. As we think he is not one of the paupers contemplated in that act not having resided there for the term of five years, we cannot but come to the conclusion that he belongs to West Gardner.
